School-based mental health clinic

Divine Savior Holy Angels

Kids deserve the best.

Healthy kids learn better.

Children's Wisconsin knows that a child's mental and behavioral health is just as important as their physical health. Kids with untreated mental health problems have higher absentee, expulsion and drop-out rates than their peers. Early intervention for kids with mental health issues is critical. Appropriate mental health services not only improves a child's ability to learn, but has long-term impacts on their social and emotional well-being.

By meeting kids where they are — in schools — we break down potential barriers to care, such as transportation and time spent out of the classroom. Mental health support within the school setting also helps to normalize the therapy experience and reduce stigma associated with seeking services.

Our mental health professionals partner with school guidance counselors, social workers, psychologists, teachers, parents and administrators to support positive classroom interventions. Specifically, they provide comprehensive, integrated programs of prevention, identification and treatment within the school setting. Therapy services and goals are tailored to each child and their specific mental and behavioral health needs. We take pride in helping each child take steps toward their overall well-being through individual, group, and family-based services.

Enrollment

Individual, family and group services are offered on-site and year-round to all students enrolled at Divine Savior Holy Angels.

To enroll your child in services during the school year, please contact your school counselor or director of student services. For summer services, please contact Children's Wisconsin Mental and Behavioral Health at (414) 266-3339 and indicate which school your child is currently enrolled in.

Fees & financial assistance policy

Clinic fees are billed to insurance for those with coverage. We will submit your claims to your insurance company, and you will receive monthly statements.

Children's provides care regardless of a family's ability to pay, and also offers financial assistance to families. Please visit childrenswi.org/billing or call (414) 266-6262 or toll free at (888) 449-4998 for more information.
